I have a lot of friends. My best friend is Gina. She is 16 years old. She is 1 year older than me. We live in the same town and we began to know each other when we were kids. Now we are classmates. Gina is tall and thin, with long black hair. She has round face with big eyes, a high nose and a small mouth. Gina is helpful. When her friends have difficulties, she always tries her best to help them. Gina is one of the best students in our class. I like studying with her. She always helps me with my studies. When I'm free, I'd like to listen to music. Gina is interested in music, too. When she goes shopping, she often asks me to go with her. Because she thinks I can help her pick beautiful clothes. Although we have the same hobbies and interests, we also have some differences. I like communicating with people and enjoy telling jokes. Gina, however, is serious and quiet. We believe in(信任) each other, so we are good friends. I hope we can keep our friendship(友谊) all our life.

Find and Keep Your Friendship

Every one of us, rich or poor, should at least have one or two good friends. Your friends will listen to you when you speak, will take care of you when you are sick, and will be together with you in your journey through life.

Everyone needs friends. Friendship can make us happier. How can we find a good friend and get on well with each other? Here is some advice.

★ Make friends with a person who is easy to get along with.

★ You should make friends with a person who has something in common with you.

★ Give your friend a hand when he or she is in trouble. Friends should always be ready to help each other.

★ Believe in each other. This is the most important thing in a friendship.

★ Even the best friends may have a quarrel sometimes. If this happens, don't let your quarrel last too long. Try to make up with your friends soon.

Friendship is a kind of treasure (财富) in our life. It is like a bottle of wine. The longer it is kept, the better it will be.
